

U.S Government Legislation Positions One American Company To Control Digital Ad Distribution. It's Stock Price Is Up 261% To Date, But That Could Seem Small By Next Year.

The deadline is February 17, 2009.

That means fantastic growth for this ad -- beaming conglomerate.
And huge profits for you.

Dear Investor,

Imagine you have a company with a digital network that lets advertisers transmit their commercials to thousands of radio and TV stations in less than one hour.

Now imagine the U.S Government enacting legislation mandating digital broadcast for all networks by 2/17/2009.

As it turns out, that company and the legislation are both real. And the U.S. Government mandate will most likely mean significant profits for investors – which could include you.

Want to know which company this is so you can profit from it's growth? I'll tell you – in just a few minutes.

First, I want to tell you a little more about the good things going on for them.

At this point, not every station is digital, so lots of stations still use the old analog "dub and ship" method of sending out tapes.

Well, that will end with the upcoming legislation. That means all the old analog commercials and programming will have to be transmitted digitally. This will lead to a significant increase in digital traffic.

This company is poised for explosive growth mandated by U.S. Government legislation!

And that's not all the good news.

This company is also preparing to electronically distribute feature films to movie theaters as the theaters change from traditional film to digital projectors. Imagine all those feature films going to thousands of theaters, and only one network to get them there.

And the good news keeps going.

The company recently made what seems to be an odd purchase -- an old-style “dub and ship” company. But that company is the biggest dub and ship company in the U.S., and comes with an enormous client list.

That positions this company for even greater growth.

Small Cap Stocks Can Mean Triple-Digit Returns For Well-Informed Investors

My name is Andrew Mickey, and I'm senior stock analyst for the Taipan Group -- a financial publishing company based in Baltimore, Maryland.

You may have seen me as a guest on one of several financial news programs, such as: Stock Breakthroughs... Profitable Investing with Jordan Kimmel... WAMT Advisor Review, and WSBR Afternoon Financial Report, to name a few.

I have eight solid years experience on Wall Street, consulting with large corporations like Harley-Davidson, Caterpillar, JB Hunt, and Johnson Controls.

I've trained at the Chicago Board options exchange with some real pitbulls.

I'm also the editor of Taipan Financial News BreakAway Investor newsletter, where I have one goal: to identify small cap stocks poised for tremendous growth, and beat the big money into the investment. That way, when the big money hits, it drives our profits through the roof.

Here are some of our recent winners:

- 383% on Generex... in 8 months
- 270% on Williams Companies... in 10 months
- 142% on Alliance Fiber... in 7 months
- 123% on E*TRADE... in 12 months
- 86% on Mesa... in 13 months
- 121% on KVH Industries... in 12 months
- 103% on Orbital... in 19 months
- 100% on Crown Cork & Seal... in 24 months

Business Growth Cycles Reveal Extraordinary Opportunities In Select Small Cap Stocks

The heart of The BreakAway Investor system is my proven BreakAway cycle selection technique. It's critical to understand how stocks move in order to make safe investments that grow quickly. Here's what I mean by BreakAway cycle:

It's rooted in the four major growth cycles most companies experience. The first part is emergence, the second is breakout, the third is pinnacle, and the fourth is mature.

The emergent stage is when a company has a great new idea or product and is testing its viability. This is not yet the time to invest. At this point, it's still just an idea and may not succeed.

Once a company realizes that the product will work and has found a market for it, they move to the breakout segment. And that's where our interest as BreakAway investors lies.

Timing here is critical. The absolute best time to buy is between emergence and breakout. This is typically too early for the big Street bucks. Most are too conservative, too afraid of “risk.” Most of these small cap investments have little real risk, since stock prices are low and we’re investing at the beginning of the breakout cycle.

You see, in the beginning of the breakout cycle, Wall Street's attention is elsewhere. The big money hasn't hit yet. Trading volume is low, so the stock price stays low.

It's the breakout stage that offers the fastest growth and biggest chance of maximum profit for investors. That's because the products are now beginning to make a difference in the marketplace. People are starting to take notice.

Once all the cattle on Wall Street take notice and start investing, their money pushes the stock price and your profits higher. That's exactly what you want, and exactly why this breakout cycle works.

Stocks That Are Undervalued And Ready To Break Out Are Prime Picks For BreakAway Investors To At Least Double Their Investment

The fast price rise of this breakout cycle is what delivers the enormous returns. Once Wall Street money has driven the price up, BreakAway Investors are ready to take their gains and move on to the next BreakAway stock.

You can see the dramatic profit potential this system offers. The key is in locating stocks that are overlooked, undervalued, and right between emergence and breakout.

I typically start with over 200 stocks as an initial screening group, with only a few dozen worth fully analyzing. I then pare down that list to three to six top picks that I share with my subscribers every month. These are the stocks I feel have the best chance of doubling, or even tripling my subscribers money.

This Single Stock Returned 261% In 10 Months

I want you to have the same chance that the rest of my subscribers have -- the chance to double or even triple your investment on these breakout stocks. The only way you can do that is to join my subscribers. And I'll make it easy for you to do that.

Before I tell you how to get the BreakAway Investor newsletter, I want to tell you a little bit more about the opportunities my subscribers have enjoyed.

As you may remember, I owe you a piece of information. I still haven't told you about the stock that will revolutionize digital distribution. This company is one of the chosen stocks in the portfolio I recommend to my subscribers.

In fact, there are 26 specific stocks in that portfolio. Many of those stocks have already put sizable gains in my subscriber's pockets. But that doesn't mean these stocks are through producing profits. There's still time to get in and benefit from these specific stock investments. Plus, you'll have the opportunity to choose from three to six new picks each month as a subscriber to The BreakAway Investor.

Now for that information. The stock I was telling you about earlier is DG Fast Channel -- DG IT. This is the company that will directly benefit from the U.S. Government mandate switching all network broadcast to digital by February 17, 2009.

Since my recommendation, DG Fast Channel has put 261% returns in my subscriber's pockets. Even with all that growth, there's room for much more. And you can still get in on that growth and the profits.

Now I Want You To Hear From Some Very Happy Subscribers

I got in at 74 cents. If it closes today at $1.64, I'll be up 121%. You guys are doing a great job.

Andy B.

As a new subscriber of about one month, I bought into DHB quickly on 10/6 at $4.10. The 80% gain so far paid for my recent trip to Spain. Let's do this again!!!
Glenn in San Diego

Bought 3,000 XYBR two days ago, was up 47%, put a 5% stop loss on it which kicked in today. Made $1,290 less $20 trade cost in two days... love it!!!
Lori

Doing really good! Bought 5,000 @ 81 cents and holding now at $1.63. Sounds like double to me! Keep 'em coming!
Norman

Can't thank you fellas enough. Took your recommendation and bought 14,000 shares of CCK at 96 cents with the last of my investment $$$. Now I've got well over $100,000. Keep up the good work.
Mike C.

UP OVER 10,000 AND COUNTING ON DHB. KEEP UP THE EXCELLENT WORK!!!
George D.

I am thrilled about ORB which I had purchased in February and sold in July for 110% profit. I know that you knew what you were talking about. I went back into ORB at the end of July at $8.38 and I am glad I did. I am 95% up on WMS, which was a no-brainer since it kept going up since I bought it when I started subscribing to your service. Another winner, thanks to you.

So by this point, you're probably thinking that this newsletter will be a significant investment -- and you're right, it will be. Any investment that gives the opportunity for double or triple digit returns is significant.

With that kind of benefit, you can easily see that charging $1,000 per year is a great value. However, since I want as many people as possible to benefit from my stock analysis, you won't have to pay $1,000 per year.

The regular price for a one year subscription to The BreakAway Investor is an outright steal at $129. As a savvy investor, you can see that is an incredible bargain. But today, you won't even have to pay that much.

Right now, I'm offering you a one-year subscription to my BreakAway Investor newsletter for only $49. That's a savings of 62%, so we're starting you out right away with double-digit returns. And the good news doesn't stop there.

- Another report, titled My Favorite 37-cent Stock. That may not appear to be worth much -- and most low-value stocks aren't -- but I've found one that's actually worth something. In fact, it could see a tenfold increase by the end of this year. Now that's a great return!
- I'm also including a report I call Don't Drink The Water: Make 348% Saving The World's Most Precious Resource! The water delivery system in most major cities is falling apart. It would cost $500 billion to dig up and fix them. But I found a company that can do the job without digging up the majority of the system. Talk about saving money! The government will be forced to use it, and you can read about it and profit from it in this report.
